MATTHEW SERIES: (THE BEATITUDES)

Blessed are those who mourn? Jesus is not saying here... be a sad sack! He isn't saying be a killjoy? Also whilst he does say that he is with us when we are in distress, that's not what this beatitude means by mourning. Last week we looked at how the first step to becoming a Christian is knowing you are poor in Spirit. Understanding and accepting your Spiritual bankruptcy. And this is the next step. Understanding that you are a sinner, and grieving it. Its owning your own faults and grieving them and feeling the pain of your own fallenness. It kind of sounds Nespresso Depresso as my kids tell me, but it isn't because the beatitude tells us that when we mourn our sin, we will receive comfort. What a paradox. You would think we would feel condemnation, as that is how the world operates but it isn't. When we own and take responsibility for our own sin, then we are comforted. Whattttt! How does that work? Well that's what we are going to unpack on Sunday morning.

See you on Sunday,
Ps Rob
